CITY ADVANCEMENT FOLKS REPORT ON COLLECTIONS FOR LINE AND HOTEL PLANS

Secretary Nelson Declared $10,000 of the Amount for the Road Was in Escrow; Transportation Committee Indicates Collections of About $1000

ONE BIG SUBSCRIPTION IN DOUBT, IT IS SAID

Hotel Committee Declares Itself Encouraged and Announces Meeting With Hotel Men Anxious to Erect the Plant on the East Side Site

Reports at the meeting of the Glendale Advancement association Tuesday from members of the transportation committee, which is collecting small subscriptions for the $25,000 railroad bonus, indicated receipts in the neighborhood of $1000, with about $600 outstanding from subscribers yet to be seen in Glendale and La Crescenta. Secretary Nelson indicated that $10,000 in cash is in escrow and that large subscriptions sufficient to make up the balance of the bonus were practically guaranteed in a manner satisfactory to the representatives of the Glendale-Montrose railroad, with whom he held a conference Monday. One large subscription was doubtful, he said, and because of some uncertainty in regard to that, members were urged to line up as subscribers any citizens not on the list who showed interest.

The hotel committee reported routine work in securing subscriptions for the purchase of the hotel site at the corner of Glendale and Broadway, with very encouraging progress. It was also announced that a meeting will be held with a number of hotel men anxious to finance and equip the proposed building.

Relative to the widening and improving of Forest avenue, Dr. Setwart reported attendance on the meeting of the board of education, at which a resolution was passed asking the city council to call together in conference representatives of all the organizations interested in securing the improvement, and the meeting had been called for Wednesday night.

Charles Stanley reported for the postoffice committee that Postmaster Jackson had sent the bid and communication of the association, endorsing the bid of Dr. Stewart for a branch office to the department at Washington, with a recommendation that it accept the bid. He also stated that the postmaster had bought a lot on the east side and would soon become a resident and booster for that section.

POSSIBILITY OF BIG INVESTMENT IN HOTEL TOLD

Thomas Jewell, Architectural Engineer, Declares 90% Can Be Secured

That he is in touch with financial men who will finance the building of the hotel at the corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway and that these men will provide up to 90 per cent of the total value of the property and building, was the statement made last night by Thomas Jewell, architectural engineer of Los Angeles, at the special meeting of the hotel committee of the Glendale Advancement association, held at 612 East Broadway.

Mr. Jewell enumerated a number of instances where the men who are represented by himself had gone as far as 90 per cent in the financing of hotel enterprises.

The information provided by Mr. Jewell was very encouraging to those who are working on the hotel proposition, and was a great incentive toward the collecting of the remainder of the money necessary for the purchase of the land.

SIGNED LISTINGS IS DECISION OF REALTY BOARD

Rules of Multiple System Modified to Make Them Acceptable

To accept nothing but signed listings was the decision reached at the special meeting of the Glendale Realty board held at Broadway Inn at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. The rules and regulations of the multiple listing system were modified so as to make them agreeable to all members of the organization.

The meeting was a "pop corn" event, practically everyone present voicing his sentiments on the various matters brought up. About 45 realtors were in attendance.

$400 IS GIVEN TO TUESDAY CLUB FUND

Walter R. Simons Makes Donation Without Restriction As to Use

A great surprise has come to the Tuesday Afternoon club which has brought joy to the hearts of its officers and all who have heard the good news. Tuesday Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the club, was informed that Walter R. Simons, president of the Simons Brick company, who is a relative of Mrs. John T. Crampton, a member of the executive board of the club, had given it a check for $400, outright, without any restrictions whatsoever. The brick which has gone into the clubhouse, came from the Simons company, but that is said to have in no way influenced the action of this public-spirited man, who is becoming greatly interested in Glendale and its promising future.

Mr. and Mrs. Simons are leaving for a European trip in a few days and the good wishes of many grateful hearts in the club will follow them.

BIG CHIEF BOY SCOUT ARRIVES

D. W. Pollard, Field Representative of Region 12, Nat'l. Council, in City

TO MEET COMMITTEE

Formulate Plans for Campaign of Education Thru Verdugo Hills District

D. W. Pollard, field representative of Region 12, National Council, B. S. A., arrived in Glendale today to advise with the officers of the local Scout council relative to plans now under consideration for enlarging the scope of activities during the coming year. Mr. Pollard will meet with the executive committee today to formulate plans for a campaign of publicity and education throughout the Verdugo Hills district.

Mr. Pollard has been one of the leading figures in the promotion of the Scout movement for years. Before coming to California he was the executive of the scout council of Chicago.

At the present time Mr. Pollard says there are over 400,000 Scouts in the country and a round-up is now underway to make it 500,000 by February 14th. About 8000 Scouts are registered in Southern California. Verdugo Hills district has 225 Scouts with 1700 boys of Scout age eligible for membership. "We speak of a boy problem," said Mr. Pollard, "when it is really a man problem that faces us in the development of scouting. For every Scout troop that is organized must be connected with some permanent organization such as a church, school, or club, who agree to furnish the Scoutmaster and assistant Scoutmaster as well as committeemen needed for the development of Scouting. Verdugo Hills district with its close proximity to the hills is very favorably situated for the development of scouting. A week-end camp should be secured and equipped where the boys could pass their various tests.

"I consider camping one of the most important features in Scout work," said Mr. Pollard. "It develops qualities in the boys brought out by no other line of training. It appeals to an instinct in boy nature, particularly marked during the scouting age."

Mr. Pollard spoke of a number of instances that had come under his observation in which boys regarded as practically incorrigible, had been reformed as a result of the changes wrought in their mental and moral makeup by camping experiences.

Mr. Pollard has great faith in the future of scouting. "It is here to stay," he says. "Scouting furnishes a line of training for the boy that he can't get from any other source," he added. "In an earlier day, when life was less complex and there were not so many interests to take up the time of the average grown-ups there was usually closer companionship between a boy and his father than there is today. Much of what the modern boy learns in the Scout troop, was then imparted in the home. Those conditions are over but the boys' need of training is as great as ever and scouting is here to supply that need."

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE A CHALLENGE TO THE GOOD CITIZENSHIP OF TAXPAYERS

Mass Meeting Thursday Night to Consider Public School Needs; Should Reflect Civic Pride

The gathering to be held Thursday night at the Wilson Avenue school to instruct members of the board of education in regard to the calling of an election to vote bonds for a school building program is the most important meeting that citizens have been summoned to attend in a long time, because it concerns an investment that means more to the community than any other expenditure that could be made in the public interest. The city that lacks good schools is dead, so far as worthwhile development is concerned. People with children who build up communities are not going to pass it by.

Could statistics be assembled it would surprise a good many citizens to know how many such people have been attracted to Glendale and by the purchase and improvement of land have advanced the value of property here.

It would also surprise the public to know how many citizens who rejoice in the mounting value of large realty holdings grudge the payment of their proportion of the cost of the things that are most responsible for their increased wealth because they want to realize the last farthing of profit themselves. These are continually appealng for sympathy because they are land poor and because so large a proportion of their incomes goes to pay taxes. In localities where there is stagnation in real estate such pleas may justify sympathy, but in Glendale, where subdivisions are sold out almost overnight, there would seem to be no reason why any man should hang onto property he cannot afford to own and hold back the educational advantages to which the rising generation is entitled, because he finds it hard to pay taxes on large holdings. If he is a good citizen he will be content to take the large profit that can be realized on any real estate purchased within the past three years and cut down his holdings to the amount that he can pay taxes upon without beggarly appeals for the sympathy of his fellow citizens. The welfare of the child should always take precedence over the welfare of the aged, because the future of the child is in the making. No one knows what value it may have for the world. The future of the aged is made. His contributions to the community life will be in a diminishing ratio.

For these reasons friends of the rising generation and friends of greater Glendale should be on hand at the Wilson Avenue school Thursday evening to see that these interests are not sacrificed to the land poor tax protestant. They should be out in force and not allow our schools to be crippled by reactionaries, who were satisfied with the educational opportunities of their own generation and would rob the boys and girls and the adults who flock to the night schools of the larger opportunities the schools of today are disposed to offer. Competition is keener than it was fifty years ago. The evolution in public school systems has been from theory to practical application. There is still room for improvement, but the aim of the education furnished by the community and state is to develop intelligence and lift the scholar above the rank of the day laborer; to give him such a practical working knowledge of the subjects that appeal to him as will make possible decent self support when he leaves school instead of obliging him to spend time and money for the practical application of the theoretical training he has had. The sooner he becomes a producer, other things being equal, the better for the state. Hence the advantage of giving him free instruction in the departmental work which is the most costly part of our system and the part against which the old timers most vigorously protest.

Again, the schools are paid for by all the people and therefore should benefit all the people. To bring about this equitable distribution of benefits the night schools have been established that the deprivations of youth may be made up and that the foreigner may have opportunity to become an American under influences which will make of him a good citizen instead of becoming the prey of malcontents and a danger to society.

Education is the one great gift which the republic bestows upon its people and the more widely its benefits are extended, the better for the republic, because ignorance is always a menace.

Glendale has placed herself in the limelight as the fastest growing city in the United States. Can she afford to injure that reputation by taking a backward step in school matters? Unless bonds are voted in the sum which the advisory committee has named as the minimum, the board of education will be compelled to scrape together what money it can get for the erection of temporary bungalow class rooms and to establish half-day sessions in a good many of the schools.

Parents have complained bitterly about school distribution and the arbitrary rulings of the board, which compelled students to go long distances to certain schools when there were school buildings nearer. They have complained of room congestion. Complaints next year will multiply unless immediate action is taken to provide more class rooms and more teachers, for the average increase in attendance, which will be not less than 25 per cent. Such complainants should be at the meeting Thursday night and see that the board is instructed to call the bond election.

K. OF P. TO BUILD BIG CASTLE HERE

Building Committee Appointed to Outline Plans for Structure

TO PRODUCE PLAYS

New Home to Be Erected and Occupied Before End of Present Year

Glendale Lodge No. 331, Knights of Pythias, held a very interesting and enthusiastic meeting last evening at the hall on the corner of Park avenue and Brand boulevard, at which several out-of-town visiting members were present.

The new chancellor commander, E. S. Meizer and his able corps of assisting officers have lined up a very active program for the year, one of the most important being a building program. The building committee has been appointed and will meet tomorrow evening for the purpose of outlining the plans for building a castle hall this year. The result will be announced later. The Knights are planning on having a castle hall of their own sometime during the present summer, located centrally, including a lodge room, banquet room, parlor, kitchen, recreation and club rooms.

On Thursday evening, January 25, at 8 o'clock, in their present hall at the corner of Park avenue and Brand boulevard, Newton Beers, an actor of the old school, will present Banin's inspiring drama, "Damond and Pythias."

Mr. Beers has a national reputation, having been associated with such characters as Edwin Forrest, Edwin Booth, Lawrence Barrett, John McCullough and others, whose names are great in theatrical annals.

The presentation of the play will consume about two hours and in that time Mr. Beers will portray every character showing versatality which will be astonishing. His description will be so full and clear that the audience can almost see the settings for the various scenes and the strong lines will be given an emphasis and his protean acting will delineate the several characters of the drama.

This will be given for the benefit of the Knights of Pythias Sisters, their families and friends, and the public is also invited.

He comes endorsed and recommended by the supreme lodge and grand jurisdictions of the several states.

This drama is being handled by a committee composed of Attorney G. H. King, P. C., chairman; E. S. Meizer, C. C.; M. J. Edwards, V. C., and F. E. Peters, K. of R. and S.

One of the inspiring features of the meeting last evening was the interest taken in the plans for the new castle hall and this drama.

Trustee C. A. Valentine, being the custodian of the present building for the past year, has shown remarkable results in his management and the members are looking forward to even greater results the present year, during the construction of the new castle hall.

ADVISORY BODY ASKS $500,000

Committee of Board of Education Discover Capacity Is Enlarged

Recent developments having shown it will be possible to vote bonds for elementary schools in the sum of $500,000, that amount will be recommended by the advisory committee of fifteen at the mass meeting Thursday evening.

The Advisory Committee had a very important session with members of the Board of Education Tuesday evening following the announcement by Superintendent White of figures secured from the office of the county auditor which showed the city school district has a bonding capacity which will allow a bond issue of $561,289, or more than $100,000 greater than the committee figured upon in preparing its budget.

It will be remembered that its first estimates were pared down $100,000 to bring it within the supposed bonding capacity of $450,000. This necessarily cut out items for which various sections of the city were clamoring and which were urgently needed. Under the changed conditions the advisory committee revised its estimates upward, adding to allowances previously made, as follows:

Cerritos Avenue, for long promised new school unit	$22,600
Magnolia	2,550
Columbus Avenue	3,000
Glendale Avenue Intermediate	500
Site in northwest for Intermediate School	30,000
Total additions	58,650
Previous budget	447,675
Grand total	$506,325

The advisory will recommend to the mass meeting Thursday night the calling of an election to vote bonds for elementary schools in the sum of $500,000, leaving to the Board of Education responsibility for paring down the budget to bring it within that figure.

The additional allowances seemed to the commitee the part of wisdom as there has never been any question about the advisability of securing a site for an intermediate school in the rapidly growing northwest section of the city, nor has there been any disposition to evade the carrying out of the promise made to patrons of the Cerritos school to build a new unit there. The increase in the bonding capacity will make possible both these things and will demonstrate the desire of the board and the committee to cover as far as possible the urgent needs of all sections.

Figures secured from the office of the county auditor relative to the bonding capacity of the district, follow:

BONDING CAPACITY
CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT

Assessed Valuation	$21,910,780
5 percent of above	1,095,539
LESS OUTSTANDING BONDS
Glendale City	$504,000
Tropico	21,250
West Glendale	9,000

Amount allowable	$561,289.00

Pacific-Southwest Review

By D. H. SMITH

Manager Brand Boulevard Branch Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank

The Pacific-Southwest has made rapid progress along manufacturing lines and promises a wonderful industrial future through the development of many industries which are yet in their infancy. Among these is the manufacture of iron and steel.

There are immense deposits of high grade iron ore in California and adjacent territory, which are easily accessible from this district. Tests which have been made of the California and Utah iron ores indicate that they run from 4 to 10 per cent higher than standard Lake Superior ores.

The advantageous position occupied by this territory is well illustrated by a comparison of the costs of mining and transportation from the Great Lakes ore deposits to Pittsburg, the center of the Eastern iron and steel industry, and the corresponding figures for the California deposits and the city of Los Angeles. One authority compiled figures in 1915 showing that total transportation and mining costs per ton of pig iron of bessemer grade were: Pittsburg (Lake Superior ores), $8.05; Los Angeles (California ores), $3.19. Much of the California ore is found in surface deposits, capable of being quarried, while the Lake Superior ores are obtained by extensive underground mining. The shipping season of the East is limited to about seven months, while here it is unlimited. Eastern shipping methods require several handlings of the ores, while in Southern California the ores can be shipped direct from mine to furnace. It thus appears that if pig iron production was contemplated in the Pacific-Southwest, the item of a sufficient supply of iron ore would present little difficulty.

The fuel situation here is not quite so favorable to the industry. Coke is at present considered the best reducing fuel, and the nearest supply of coking coal is in Utah. However, there is little doubt but that within a few years practical means of utilizing petroleum and hydro-electric power for smelting will be perfected.

At the present time production of plants in this district is composed largely of two so-called "classes" of articles. The first consists principally of fabricated machinery such as boilers, tanks, tubing, steel pipes, smoke stacks, flumes, etc., articles which in their finished state are too bulky to be transported great distances except at heavy freight costs.

The other group includes many kinds of special machinery; machinery for which there exists a considerable local demand, such as oil drilling outfits, gasoline pumps and irrigation machinery; and a large number of articles which are produced in rough finish, and in small units at comparatively low cost, such as small castings, iron molding, gates, sash weights, concrete reinforcements, small steel bars, etc. In addition, at the present time, the field offers opportunity for a steel rolling plant handling principally smaller and simpler articles.

Practically all the oil drilling machinery used in California is manufactured in this territory. One of the largest oil machinery factories in the world is located at Torrance, near Los Angeles. The products of this concern are sold not only in the middle-western oil fields of this country, but also in foreign countries.

The ever-increasing demands on this industry will, without doubt, mean a tremendous increase in the manufacture of iron and steel in the Pacific-Southwest.

MRS. EDGAR SALTUS SPEAKS AT L. A. HOTEL

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Knox of South Central avenue, Glendale, attended a meeting held Sunday afternoon at the Ambassador Hotel. Mrs. Edgar Saltus was the principal speaker. Her talk was regarding a "Bide-a-wee" refuge home for animals which she proposes to establish in the vicinity of Los Angeles. When Mr. Saltus passed away she promised him to establish such a home for animals. On investigation it was found that there was already such a place in New York City and she came west. Mrs. Guy Bates Post of Pasadena is to be the president of the Los Angeles society which is being organized. Mrs. Rosamund Rae Wright of Eagle Rock, president of the California Anti-Vivisection Society, was also a speaker at the meeting.

A Message to Suffering Humanity

Twenty-six years ago, in the city of Davenport, Iowa, was born a science which was destined to revolutionize the science of healing, and was also destined to save countless thousands from lives of suffering, from needless operations and from premature graves—that great science is CHIROPRACTIC. While only a quarter of a century old, over 14,000 brave, loyal men and women in the U. S. A. are daily demonstrating to sick and suffering humanity that "WHILE THERE IS LIFE THERE IS HOPE" of a return to health and happiness, and scores of thuosands of men, women and children all over this broad land and country, who have been cured of almost every ailment on the calendar of human ills, are singing the praises of the wonderful science of Chiropractic.

Almost contemporary with the discovery of the science of Chiropractic, the great science of Electro-Therapy was being worked out by such great men as Tesla, Bennett, Neiswanger and Crookshank. These men demonstrated beyond all doubt, that Electricity, when properly applied, was one of the most potent factors in the realm of science for healing the sick. SO, by leaps and bounds, the two great sciences, Chiropractic and Electro-Therapy, have gone on hand in hand, overcoming superstition and prejudice until today they are recognized as a healing science par excellent, in practically every state in the Union and many foreign lands. Just at the last election, the good people of the great State of California voted by more than one hundred thousand majority that, by law, the sick and suffering of this state had a right to demand and receive Chiropractic. Dr. Wyly, who for six years has been Idaho's most successful Chiropractic, has chosen to cast his lot in Burbank, Calif., and has opened modern, up-to-date offices in the Olson Bldg., 221 E. San Fernando Blvd. Dr. Wyly has purchased the very best, and most up-to-date Electrical Equipment that money can buy, and his long years of Experience, with his thorough training in one of the best Chiropractic Colleges in the world, also one of the oldest and best Electro-Therapeutic Colleges in Chicago, amply fits him for the work he has undertaken. As a Diagnostician, Dr. Wyly has gained a most prominent reputation, and one has only to write to their friends back in or near Boise, Idaho, to hear of the wonderful cures which he has brought about, through his combined system of Chiropractic and Electrical Treatments. Practically every disease to which the human body is heir, can very soon and surely be cleared up and eradicated by this wonderful combined system of treatment.

EXAMINATION FREE

Dr. Wyly makes no charge whatever for Examination and Consultation, and it places the patient under absolutely NO obligation. If you are sick, Dr. Wyly will be only too glad to give you a careful, thorough examination, and if he is not quite sure he can very materially benefit you, he will frankly and quickly tell you so. He will not take you for treatment unless he is very sure he can entirely cure you, or very materially benefit you. So, if you are not as well as you feel you should be, you owe it to yourself and your loved ones to see Dr. Wyly. He treats practically every disease of the human body—Headache, Defective Sight and Hearing, Tonsilitis, Adenoids, Goitre, Weak Lungs, Nervousness, High Blood Pressure, Low Blood Pressure, Weak Heart, Stomach Trouble, Constipation, Liver Trouble, Appendicitis, Diseases peculiar to Women, Prostatic Enlargement, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, and many other abnormal conditions.

TREATMENTS DO NOT HURT

You need have no fear in coming to Dr. Wyly, as his Treatments positively "WILL NOT HURT YOU." That one thing alone is keeping more people from going to a Chiropractor than everything else combined—and in that Dr. Wyly guarantees you need have no fear.

Ceremonies Are Followed With Absorbing Interest Until Nearly Midnight, When Relaxation and Refreshments Follow

Tuesday was a gala night for Oddfellowdom in Glendale when the public was invited to witness a joint installation of officers of the I. O. O. F. and the Rebekahs.

About 400 members and friends of the order responded and several installments of chairs had to be imported to seat the visitors, delaying the opening of the lodge for half an hour or more. When once the ceremonies started they were followed with absorbed attention and without interruption until the close at 11:30 when refreshments were served in the banquet hall.

Dr. H. C. Smith of this city, District Deputy Grand Master, and his staff, composed of Deputy Grand Marshal Frank Stanley, Deputy Grand Warden A. D. Hurd, Deputy Grand Secretary M. E. Brown, and Deputy Grand Herald Daniel Hall, were the installing officers for the Odd Fellows and put on the work in a practiced and impressive, though simple manner.

At the completion of their task their chairs were vacated to the Rebekahs, who proceeded to embroider the same work in a picturesque manner. District Deputy President Lydia Hadley and her staff composed of the District Deputy Marshal and the officers to fill the various chairs, were attended by a team of eight sisters, whose functions were similar to those of maids of honor. They were gowned in white and carried flowers which were lifted high to form a floral arch under which the candidates passed in the marchings and counter marchings which preceded the presentation of each officer before the chair where she took the pledge of office and received her regalia. It was a pretty spectacle from start to finish and quite put in the shade the work of the more matter of fact brothers.

The local lodge is a member of District No. 42 which includes Van Nuys, Burbank, Lancaster, San Fernando and Glendale. District Deputy Grand Master Smith and team have been kept busy for the past month installing officers throughout this district where the attendance has been large but nothing equal to the crowd which more than filled the hall last night.

Besides the Glendalians present there were many visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs from lodges in Los Angeles and suburban cities, some of high rank in the order who were invited to the platform by Noble Grand Loretta Schwitters after her installation and called upon for speeches, responding graciously with appropriate words of congratulation.

District Deputy President Hadley and her assisting marshal were presented with very beautiful baskets of flowers which they acknowledged with graceful speeches expressing the pleasure they had taken in the work.

Among the pleasant events of the evening were the presentation of pins to the retiring heads of the local organizations, Mrs. Elgie Stevens and Noble Grand A. D. Hurd.

Sister La Force made the presentation to Past Noble Grand Stevens who admonished her successor to faithfulness in office, assuring her that work conscientiously performed would be its own reward.

Brother James McBryde presented the gift to Past Noble Grand Hurd who also made worthy acknowledgment.

Past District President Smith, who received an enthusiastic greeting, commented on the work of the order in supporting the orphan's home at Gilroy and the old people's home at Los Gatos, urging all present to visit the institutions.

Informal talks were made by District Deputy Grand Master Smith and by Conductor Hadley of the Grand Lodge of California.

Officers installed were:

NEW DENTIST TO OPEN ON SOUTH SIDE

Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Bellof, formerly of Philadelphia, Pa., have located in Glendale, after touring the southern and western states, and spending several months in Los Angeles. Dr. Bellof is a dentist of many years' experience and will open an office in about ten days in the Orff building at 1728½ South San Fernando road, near Brand boulevard. Fixtures are now being installed which are right "up to the minute" and this new professional office, the first of its kind to be established in the new business district in southern Glendale, will undoubtedly fill a great need in this rapidly developing section.

BROCADES

Brocades are destined for an almost unprecedented vogue and a new silk which has just appeared has an especially lovely design in rich and brilliant colors and woven across its surface tiny lines of gold.

COMMUNITY MUSIC TO BE FORMED IN GLENDALE

A. Stewart of Nat'l. Service to Begin 5 Weeks of Organization

Beginning Monday night, January 22, at 7:30 o'clock and continuing for five weeks, with meetings each Monday and Friday nights, Alexander Stewart, Pacific coast music organizer for National Community Service, will conduct a music insittute to train volunteer leaders for community singing. These meetings will be held in the music room of the high school and will last about one hour each. The institute will be conducted at the expense of the National Community Service organization.

A call is being made by A. L. Baird, chairman of the Glendale Community Service music committee, to all of the organizations to take advantage of the opportunity offered by this institute in joining in one big movement for community sings in Glendale.

This institute will call together all of the song leaders of the community and determine on the interpretation of the songs that are customarily used by all. A special appeal is made to the churches to have as many representatives present as they wish.

Those who would like to give a portion of thier leisure time during the year to the promotion of community sings throughout the city are also invited. It is desired to give every organization in the city a volunteer song leader from Glendale's talent. The only special requirement of an individual wishing to take advantage of the institute is that he or she be willing to give a little time during the year when convenient to lead sings throughout the community. There will be no expense attached.

Through the organization of this group of leaders no club, church or organization should be without a real community sing as a portion of any program.

Alexander Mitchell, Mrs. W. A. Kulp and Mrs. W. Q. Widdows are the members of the committee directly in charge of details of the institute. Enlistments for the class may be made with them or by reporting at the music room of the high school Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Stewart has conducted some very successful musical institutes in San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, San Diego and all over the United States.

HATZ STORE IS CENTER OF BIG SALE SENSATION

C. J. Hatz, 132 South Brand, has a sale on Thursday, Friday and Saturday which should prove a great drawing card to ladies desiring to buy the best in ready-to-wear and ladies' furnishings. It is not necessary to say that Hatz carries an exclusive stock—a line that is the very best and will please the most exacting. Then, too, his prices are right. During this sale he has made big reductions on up-to-the-minute garments that ordinarily sell for almost double the prices given by Mr. Hatz in his display advertisement on page 3 of this paper.

Having been a resident of Glendale for several years, and catering to those who buy only the best, Mr. Hatz has built up a business that is not only increasing right along in volume, but he is branching out, and adding new goods all the time.

A line of specials is included in the sale that will be rapidly picked up by alert shoppers. The reductions are big money saving offers and doubtless there will be a big crowd on hand early tomorrow when the sale opens.

AT THE THEATRES

HOW "SAWYER" WAS FILMED AT GLENDALE

A special compartment car and a diner furnished the living quarters for the members of the "Quincy Adams Sawyer" company during the two weeks which were spent on location in the far northwest. The entire personnel which was engaged in this Metro-SL production was included in the party which filmed the most thrilling water scenes ever flashed on the screen in the swirling waters of the Columbia river. Clarence Badger directed the film, now at the Glendale Theatre for the last showing today.

Because of the remoteness of the location it was necessary to arrange with the railway officials for the construction of a siding at the point where the roadbed approaches closest the junction of the Columbia and Kettle rivers. This siding was the site on which the rolling home of the company rested. Horses and buggies were chartered to transport the players to and from the river, a distance of three miles, morning and night.

Three baggage cars were required to carry the necessary electrical supplies, including a large generator, and other equipment. Two horses and two wagons also were included as well as lumber for a boat, two dozen life belts, a surgical emergency kit and other articles. A physician also accompanied the party to provide treatment in the event of illness or injury. Considerable danger was incurred in the filming of many scenes and for that reason these were left until all others had been taken.

"EBB TIDE" IS STUDY AT THE T. D. & L. THEATER

There came to the T., D. & L. Theatre last night a new Paramount picture, "Ebb Tide," which proved to be one of the most startling photoplays of the year and a worthy successor of Mr. Melford's previous great successes, "The Sheik" and "Burning Sands."

"Ebb Tide" is a picturization of the famous story by R. L. Stevenson and Lloyd Osbourne of a man who has sunk to the lowest level of degradation—the "ebb tide" of man's affairs. His regeneration forms the theme of the story. James Kirkwood plays the man, and Lila Lee is seen in the leading feminine role. Other featured parts are in the capable hands of Raymond Hatton, George Fawcett, Noah Beery and Jacqueline Logan. The story is enthralling, and the situations as a rule are highly dramatic. George Melford has made a picture that does full credit to Stevenson's powerful imagination.

Altogether, this picture is one that will amaze and entertain all who see it, for it treats of a phase of life with which few are familiar. The work of featured players.

GLAMOR OF OLD EGYPT FILLS MEETING

Literary Section of Tuesday Afternoon Club Spends Afternoon Among the Pyramids

BY CORINNE ORFF

"Egypt," the land of the sand and pyramids, as it is today and was centuries ago, was the picture brought before the minds of those attending the meeting of the literary section of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. P. McBoyle, 369 West Milford street, with Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth, Mrs. J. W. Walton and Mrs. C. J. Higgins assisting as hostesses.

A most interesting atmospheric prologue, as it were, was given to the afternoon's program by Mrs. Nanno Woods, who explained about the Egyptian music and dancing, after which her daughter, Miss Kathleen Woods, gave her interpretation of an "Egyptian Dance," accompanied at the piano by her sister, Miss Dorothy Woods. Mrs. Woods stated that the Arabian customs, languages and stories are so closely related with the Egyptian that it is almost impossible to distinguish between the dances of the two people. The dancing is usually accompanied by a tambourine or castanets and bears a strong resemblance to the Spanish fandango. Mrs. Woods announced the play, "Arabian Love Story," to be put on by the Community Service Players at the Glendale Theatre on February 15.

Mrs. W. F. Nash, Sr., told of "Prehistoric Egypt," and of how the Sahara desert had at one time been the sea and had later changed into the valley of the Nile. The ancient belief of the Egyptians that the welfare of their sours was dependent upon the preservation of their bodies was explained by her as being the reason for the building of the pyramids, where the bodies were placed after being embalmed with pitch and spices. She said: "We are indebted to the Egyptians for our calendar."

"Egypt, the Land of the Pyramids," was the topic of the talk given by Mrs. W. B. Bean. She said "the pyramids are supposed to be between 6,000 and 7,000 years old," and told in detail how they had been built. The Pyramids of Ghizeh and the obelisk of the Heliopolis were described by her.

"Egypt of the Bible Times" was the topic of Mrs. H. W. Yarick's talk, in which she told of the building of various temples and the kings of the different dynasties. Mrs. H. O. Willcox gave a very vivid picture of "The Later Alexandria" in her talk. The city of Alexandria is the main seaport of the southern Mediterranean and was founded by Alexander the Great in 332 B. C. Mrs. C. W. Houston, who visited Egypt when she was eighteen years old, read an interesting account of her tour from the diary she wrote at that time. She alsa displayed a number of relics procured by her during her visit in Egypt. All of the towns on the river Nile provide entertainment for the visitors, in the nature of races, wrestling matches, etc.

At the close of the program the hostesses served refreshments of tea, coffee and cake. Preceding the program a business meeting was held, with Mrs. J. E. Sargent, curator, in charge. Minutes of the last regular meeting and of the special business meeting were read by Mrs. G. H. Rowe, secretary. As the section is to finance the purchasing of dishes for the new club home it was decided to give a food sale at the time of the rummage sale to be given in February. Mrs. E. Cleophas will arrange a musical program to be given at her home some time this month for the purpose of raising funds for the furnishings. The next regular meeting of the section will be held at the home of Mrs. Frankie Webb, 303 North Louise street, on February 6, with Mrs. Sawyer as assisting hostess.

Mrs. A. P. McBoyle was in charge of yesterday's program. Roll call was answered by the members, who responded by reading from the "Old Kingdom Book of Proverbs," which was discovered in Thebes and dates back to 2100 B. C. Ptah Hotap was the author and wrote the book when he was 110 years old.

Guests included Mrs. Bean, Mrs. Woods, Miss Kathleen Woods, Miss Dorothy Woods of Glendale; Mrs. A. L. Harchelrode, Miss McKellar and Mrs. Robinson of Downey.

LA RAMADA ART CENTER IS PLANNED

Conversion of Old Historic Adobe Into Museum Proposed

FOR SPANISH MOTIFS

Open House to Be Held Sunday Afternoon to Discuss Matter

Believing that Glendale is peculiarly adapted for an art center and that a permanent exhibit to foster the love of art should be established here, a group of artists and art lovers has started a movement to secure a portion of La Ramada, on which the historic adobe, built by representatives of the Verdugo family, is standing, that it may be used for an art gallery, a use to which it is very well adapted.

For the purpose of interesting the public in the matter, those who are pushing the movement, Mr. and Mrs. Swartz of the sculptors' colony at La Ramada; Mrs. D. F. Reichard, president of the Central Avenue Parent-Teacher Association, and others, will hold open house at La Ramada next Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5, assisted by members of the artists' colony there. It will be filled with beautiful pictures, Mr. Stendahl of the Standahl galleries, who is much interested in the project, having agreed to bring a collection of the old Spanish type. The Southern California Art Club will contribute, and there will be etchings by Mr. Pearson and Mr. Cotton of this city.

Mr. Stendahl has said if Glendale will provide the art center, he will bring exhibits here, and Mr. Dickson of the University of Southern California, has promised, it is said, to start an art school here if the center materializes.

The wonderful diversity of landscape to be found in Glendale because of the Verdugo Hills which form its background, and the wonderful lighting effects resulting from such a setting have brought many artists here to study. It is felt that an art home ideal as is the adobe mentioned should be secured while it is to be had. The property is being subdivided and the chance to obtain it may be lost. For that reason the art reception has been planned in the hope that enough people can be found in Glendale who realize that art should go hand in hand with commercial development in any city which desires a balanced growth to make such an art center possible. No definite campaign has yet been outlined. That will come later if Glendale responds and appreciates the chance which fate has offered.

Mss. Ballagh, who is particularly enthusiastic in regard to the matter, declares if every child in Glendale would contribute 25 cents, it would be assured.

PARENTS GUESTS ON SILVER DATE OF WEDDING

The Misses Johnson Entertain in Honor of 25th Anniversary

Miss Alice Johnson and Miss Mildred Johnson of 314 North Orange street entertained at a very charming card party and social evening at their home Tuesday night in celebration of the "silver" or twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Johnson, and also announcing the engagement of Miss Alice Johnson to Thomas R. McKinley of Los Angeles.

A most effective color scheme of pink was carried out in detail throughout the house. The lights were all covered with pink rose petal shades. Baskets of pink sweet peas were arranged artistically in the various rooms. The dining room was a picture with its dainty decorative scheme. The table was centered with a tiny kewpie bride, bridegroom and minister, around them a garland of smilax and pink sweet peas. Over the table the large dome light had been covered with pink petals and ropes of pink crepe paper extended to the table. Four large floor lamps with shades covered with the pink petals and lights resembling pink roses were arranged near the table. These light shades were all edged with silver and had silver tinsel hanging from them. Pink candles tied with tulle ribbon further carried out the color scheme, as did the pink favor baskets.

After an evening of cards the guests enjoyed refreshments of punch and wedding cake. This too carried out the color scheme of pink, silver and white. The dates 1898-1923 were molded in white icing on the top of the large wedding cake. On examining the place cards the guests found a tiny pink roll of paper, which when opened was found to contain the names of Miss Alice Johnson and Mr. McKinley.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have resided in Glendale about three years, coming here from Duluth, Minn. They were married in Wisconsin. The marriage of their daughter will take place sometime in the late summer.

Mrs. Johnson wore a gown of black tulle with jet and sequin trimmings. Miss Alice Johnson was gowned in blue charmeuse and Miss Mildred Johnson wore blue crepe with silver lace trimmings.

The invited guests from Glendale, Los Angeles and vicinity included: Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kitterman, Miss Kathryn Kitterman, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Percey, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mace, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds; Miss Erma Standlee and Miss Viola Carlson of Glendale; Mrs. Mace of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. John Lobe, Miss Blanche Lobe, Oscar Lobe, Charles Lobe, Kenneth McKinley, Miss Agnes Lindanger, Mrs. Lloyd Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Canfield, Mrs. Eva Brown, Everett Brown, Thomas McKinley, Mr. Elliott, and Orion Glenn of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. John Heitman of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lewis of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Silverthorn of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Anderson of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. George Meyers of San Gabriel.

The Misses Johnson were assisted in serving by Misses Standlee, Lobe, Carlson, Kitterman and Mrs. Percey.

MOTHERS' NIGHT AT PACIFIC AVE. CHURCH

It was "Mother's Night" at the Pacific Avenue M. E. church last night, in the revival effort now in its third week. The house was crowded and the entire center section was filled with women.

After 45 minutes of songs and readings by the Conner Trio, in which "Mother" was featured, Rev. H. C. Mullen, the pastor, preached a "Mother" sermon which was filled with sweet sentiment, clustering around that most revered of all human names.

A goodly delegation from the Central Avenue M. E. church, headed by the pastor, Rev. V. Hunter Brink, occupied space reserved for them.

This is the last week of the meetings. The closing service will be on Sunday evening. Friday evening the last booster program will be given and 60 bright boys and girls will appear on the platform.

The Conners leave Monday next for a three weeks' engagement at McCloud, in the northern part of the state, at the close of which they will assist the First M. E. church of Santa Barbara for three weeks in a revival effort. They are in such demand, receiving many more calls than they can respond to, that they take no rest between meetings, closing at one place on Sunday night and beginning at the next on the following day. Glendale is proud of these good people, who are giving their lives, with very small remuneration to the task of making the world better and brighter and heaven nearer.

Truths in Epigram

In prosperity it is very easy to find a friend.—Epictetus.

If a man does not make new acquaintances as he advances through life he will soon find himself left alone. — Samuel Johnson.

Above our life we love a steadfast friend.—Marlowe.

AN INVASION BY WOLVES

Gaunt, gray timber wolves of great ferocity are reported as invading a portion of the east along the Canadian line. They have worked havoc among the livestock, and in several instances have overcome human victims. One reason given for the abundance of the creatures is the low price of fur. This is a reason that might have been overlooked by any one who has had recent occasion to buy fur as a finished product. It would not be a very good reason anyhow. The natural impulse of the residents of a community would be to protect themselves against beasts of prey, regardless of the value of pelts.

It is singular that there should have been an effort, pitifully successful generally, to exterminate harmless varieties of wild life. The buffalo had to go, because the domain where the vast herds roved was needed for industrial development as settlers pressed westward. Yet the process was attended by needless waste and cruelty most wanton. The antelope that even as late as the eighties, was to be seen on the plains, has vanished. Hunters yearly show the intent to force all members of the deer family to follow the antelope. A few seasons more, and even in remote fastnesses, the moose and elk will be so rare as to be classed as freaks.

While hunters go into eastern forests to kill deer, they are accomplishing nothing but the pleasure involved in slaughter. There are some people who wonder that such pleasure should be recognized, but so it seems to be. Thus the hunters go forth to denude the hills of a beautiful type of life that works no injury, and is destroyed to no legitimate purpose. There is not much excitement. There is no danger save that of being shot by another hunter. Now if these same sportsmen would get after the wolves, they could have excitement in plenty, and the more of the game they killed, the better. There is no sentimentality whatever inclined to protect the wolf.

A DUAL EXODUS

Mohammedans now in the Hellenic peninsula must henceforth reside in Turkey. Greeks at present in Turkey must emigrate to Greece. Such is one decision reached at the Lausanne conference. It involves for each nationality, a mighty exodus. That it will be in the interests of peace there is full reason for believing. The Turks have proved themselves unfit to rule people of any nationality but their own. Whatever may be their capacity for self-government, their attempts to exercise dominion over others have been tragic failures. Their tendency is to enslave rather than to control, and extermination seems to be their idea of discipline.

Recently the Greeks have demonstrated that, once their passion of hatred is loosed, they can be as brutal as the Turk. In the recent futile war between the two countries, the Greeks were guilty of outrages as gross, against helpless and unarmed, as the Turk ever has been charged with being. The hatred of the two peoples is mutual and deadly. For them to mix on terms of amity would be impossible. So long as they try to mix, there would be constant danger of a outbreak, and Europe cannot permit its safety thus to be threatened.

The change will involve the movement of perhaps a million. It will involve also much individual hardship. No less drastic remedy seems within reach.

THE INEVITABLE END

Writing of the certainty of death, and seriously, as befits the theme, Dr. Charles Fleischer says "If you live long enough you are sure to die." There is something obscure about this sentence. It could not have been intended as a jest, for it would have been out of place. The first clause might better be omitted; then a plain truth is expressed.

There is an absurd school of faith that from the rostrum prates the fallacy that millions now living will never die. That the proponents of such a theory are sincere may be doubted, since in other respects they give signs of intelligence. Perhaps they think by such seductive patter to win a following.

Science has done much to prolong life. It has been assisted greatly by the plain common sense of people, who, recognizing the hurtful effects of once-approved customs of sanitation, exercise and diet, have inaugurated reforms. Will power also is a valuable equation. The individual who desires to live long, often by the determination not to die, seems sustained beyond the time when to succumb would appear in accordance with natural law.

Sarah Bernhardt is an example of the patient defying the wisdom of the doctors. Through the force of mind she holds life-destroying agencies at a distance. Defiant of ill health, she prolongs her stay. Living on "borrowed time" she demands extension of the loan, and has her way. But no one could suppose for a moment that these conditions could continue indefinitely.

There is no creed, no formula, no secret that may defer the inevitable climax. As Dr. Fleischer says "If you live long enough you are sure to die." And sometimes, if poor human judgment could be competent to judge, many are called before they have lived "long enough."

The suggestion is made that the Germans might meet the invasion of their industrial district by striking. A strike in the presence of an armed host that withholds approval from such tactics, naturally would be attended by difficulties. During the war many French and some American prisoners worked for the Germans, without pay and on poor rations. Doubtless they felt like striking, but they knew better than to do it.

In the warm weather a number of men were observed to be wearing straw hats. Thus they evidenced their courage and good judgment. There is no custom having less basis in common sense than that of the male in discarding the headgear that he finds suitable and comforting, at whatever date may be set for the operation, by the residents of cold regions on the Atlantic side.

Perhaps no harm will come of the unseasonably warm weather of January. There will be none unless nature should decide to make a fair average temperature by sending a period of unusual chill. That would be destructive of the buds that have been coerced into premature appearance.

Chicago ministers declare that refusal to permit members of the ku klux to serve on juries "virtually was depriving klansmen of their rights of citizenship." Possibly this is true. A question naturally arises as to why a klansman, the order to which he belongs clearly unconstitutional, should be regarded as entitled to the rights of citizenship.

The Red, White and Blue Steeple

By DR. FRANK CRANE

It is generally conceded that loyalty is among the first of virtues.

The loyal man is a hero, and the disloyal man the lowest of creatures.

Dr. Frank Crane

It is very hard, however, to get people to grasp any idea except in the very simplest of terms. And the trouble is that the greatest and most important ideas are not simple at all. They are complex and they need adjustment to other ideas.

When we get hold of some one enthusiasm and cling to it excluding all others, we are led into fanaticism and often into cruelty and into the most abominable inhumanity.

Internationalism, humanity, and universal brotherhood, for instance, are fine things. But if we become obsessed by these ideals and forget that we are human beings having other relations, and go about assassinating presidents and blowing up factories, we are dangerous bugs.

We need to keep this in mind when thinking about loyalty. We need to ask "Loyal to what and to whom?" Also we need to ask "Of two loyalties, which comes first?"

The primitive loyalty is to one's self, as expressed by the proverb "Self defense is the first law of Nature."

But we do not have to travel very far in the steps of civilization to discover that good as this self loyalty may be it must be subordinated to a better. And we justly deem a man to be a poltroon when he will not be loyal to his wife and his children even when it involves danger to himself.

Every step in civilization involves a higher loyalty. After self comes the family and after the family comes the state, or nation.

When an enemy invades our country as the armies of Germany invaded France, it becomes the duty of every one of us to supersede loyalty to himself and even to his family by a higher loyalty, a loyalty to his nation and his flag.

This is rather generally acknowledged throughout the world. But it is not the end. There is still a higher loyalty. There is loyalty to humanity or to the human race.

To this highest of all loyalties even patriotism must become subservient. When it does not, it may be a curse instead of a blessing.

If, for instance, it is conceivable that our country should decide upon an iniquitous invasion of Canada or Mexico it would be the duty of every citizen to renounce and disobey such a government.

Of course our government is not likely to enjoin upon us a duty which involves being disloyal to our family, to ourself, or to humanity.

But the only reason why it will not do such a thing is because the sentiment of nationalism is held in check by the sentiment of humanity, justice and right which has the higher claim.

The problem of today is to subject the sentiment of patriotism to the more universal and fundamental sentiment of loyalty to humanity.

For loyalty to humanity is the only kind that can be called loyalty to God.

In the little town of Ruffey-les-Echirey in France they have decided to paint the church steeple in the national colors. It is a striking illustration of disordered sentiment.

National colors have no business upon the House of God. For Whoever or Whatever He may be, God certainly is not the God of France nor the God of America nor the God of Germany, neither is He the God of the Buddhists, the Mahometans or the Christians. If there is any God at all He is the God of the human race.

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

A friend of the editor of this Listening Post writes him a letter.

Jocular in a way.

Half serious and half earnest.

And wants to know what to do in a great many cases.

* * *

He wants the editor to tell him out of the profundity of his experience.

He wants to know how to meet a lot of the problems of life.

Not the big ones.

But the little problems that come up every day.

* * *

Making the wage dollar go around.

Making both ends meet.

Getting a little money ahead.

Settling little questions that sometimes perplex and give concern.

Getting prices down to a lower level.

Life has a lot of little and big problems.

Life has always had.

The cave man had them.

How to get food and keep it from larger animals.

How to provide and keep a shelter.

How to get skins for protection against inclement weather.

And the same problems in a different way and with added complexity face us now.

* * *

There are some good simple rules in life.

So simple that often we fail to note them.

Or to heed them.

We look for involved explanations and directions when we need only simple ones.

And one of the very simple rules is to do about the best you can in whatever emergency arises.

If you are out of a job, the thing obviously to be done is to do the best you can toward getting one.

And the best you can at keeping it.

And the best you can at earning the wage you receive.

And the best you can toward advancing to a better job.

* * *

This doing the best you can is a progressive sort of thing.

New vision opens to you.

If you do the best you can at one thing you learn you can do the best you can at a bigger one.

And the first thing you know most of your problems have been solved.

Simply by doing the best you can.

Of course, if you want advice as to a matter of law, you should seek a lawyer.

And in the matter of health you should seek a physician.

And in the matter of theology, you should seek a theologian.

They are capable of giving special and particular advice.

But in the matter of life and work and common sense, the best-you-can rule is a good one to apply.

No matter what your circumstance is.

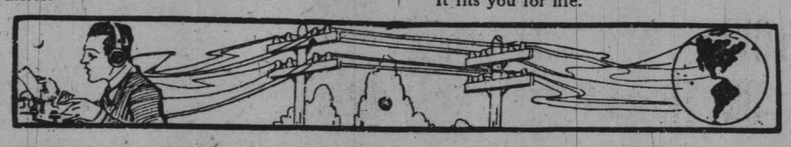
If the energy spent in worry were applied in work, what a world it would be!

And doing the best you can drives away worry.

It increases self respect.

It fits you for life.



Songs of the Poets

"One Morning, Oh! So Early"—By Jean Ingelow (1820-1897)

One morning, oh! so early, my belov-ed my belov-ed,
All the birds were singing blithely, as if never they would cease;
'Twas a thrush sang in my garden, "Hear the story, hear the story!"
And the lark sang "Give us glory!"
And the dove said "Give us peace!"

Then I hearkened oh! so early, my belov-ed, my belov-ed
To the murmur from the woodland of the dove, my dear, the dove;
When the nightingale came after, "Give us fame to sweeten duty!"
When the wren sang, "Give us beauty!"
She made answer, "Give us love!"

Sweet is spring, and sweet the morning, my belov-ed, my belov-ed;
Now for us doth spring, doth morning, wait upon the year's increase,
And my prayer goes up, "Oh, give us, crowned in youth with marriage glory,
Give for all our life's dear story,
Give us love and give us peace!"

THE JOY OF BEING WICKED

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

"Civilization gave women veils and religion gave them scruples—or the desire to make men believe they had them—.

The combination perfected their powers.

Thanks, but that bit of wisdom did not originate in my small head. Anatole France uttered a truism and I added the cynical suggestion contained in the brackets.

The author had in mind the appeal of mystery and the pride that the male enjoys in breaking down a scruple.

But I am thinking of another phase of the love problem. I am wondering how much the sum total of love would be reduced if men and women had not been trained to believe it wrong. Of course, I know that with the proper ceremonies and incantations it can be made right; more it can be made a duty. And then it often dies.

But let us suppose, just for the sake of entertaining speculation, that tomorrow or next day, love between men and women should suddenly become obligatory. Would we get any kick out of loving?

For men the fun of the chase would be gone, for women the excitement of deception, the fooling and tweedling of the male to make him believe he has to work for something that she wouldn't for the world miss giving him.

And both would miss the mental cocktail that comes of feeling dangerous.

When somebody shuns a danger he is running from power and we all enjoy a sense of power. That's why when the church announced that women were dangerous they started all the women to feeling important and all the men to investigating feminine psychology.

The more the church declared women wicked the more the men wanted them. If you don't believe it read the lives of the saints and Christian fathers. No lover on earth ever yearned for his mistress as did St. Anthony in the desert for the women of his dreams. Human nature is so constructed that the only thing it doesn't want is the thing it can get and the only thing it wants with an unconquerable longing is something that has been declared dangerous. Dynamite blows us up, but my what a show the explosion makes. Mating was as dull as a potato masher until religion and civilization tried to regulate it.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

THE RIGHT TO WORK

[Memphis Commercial Appeal]

In the evening of a life that has been devoted to useful toil and to increasing the comforts and pleasures of mankind Luther Burbank sends out a message of thanks that should be an inspiration to persons of all ages, all races and all creeds. In his seventy-fourth year, the greater part of which has been spent in hard but consoling toil, Mr. Burbank from his California home tells the world that he has to be grateful chiefly for these things:

"I am thankful that I have good health, plenty of sunshine, and many good friends. I am also thankful that I am still able to work. Out of work I get plenty of real fun in life."

Surely has this kindly man gotten out of sunshine the highest results both materially and morally. The new varieties of beautiful flowers and useful fruits and vegetables he has brought into being have contributed to the aesthetic happiness as much as to the bodily health of men and women. The world is very much in his debt for his creations of beauty and utility and yet he views the opportunity for such service as being the greatest boon that could be conferred upon him. Sunshine has been to him both an inspiration and a purpose. He has absorbed it as healthily as his botanical creations and in his little message he gives it forth to the world most profitably.

Gratitude for the right to work and do good is not merely a Thanksgiving sentiment. It is a rule of conduct that will bring happiness as much to the one who follows it as to the rest of the world if it be practiced 365 days of the year.

THE PRESENT DRINKERS

[Portland, Me., Press Herald]

Today we need an old-fashioned temperance revival not directed at the poor, who cannot afford to drink, but aimed at the well-to-do and the rich who not only can afford to drink but who are doing most of the drinking.

In such a revival, if it be undertaken, the women, if they are so disposed, can play an influential part. If they, and particularly those in the innermost circles of fashion, take the position that those who drink and violate the law shall be socially ostracized, bootlegging and rum running will soon cease because they will be unprofitable.

It used to be said here in Maine that most of the people believed in prohibition "for the other fellow." If this is true throughout the country then prohibition is a failure and the sooner the eighteenth amendment be repealed the better it will be. No law can long endure which applies only to the poor and cannot be made to also apply to the rich.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The bride of a few days, by the way, a kid of sixteen, recently disappeared from the domicile in which she ought to have been queen. Her mother explains that the child, having found married life distasteful, had eloped with another man.

HENRY JAMES

It would appear that the spritely bride's prejudice is not against marriage as an institution, but rather has to do with the particular one in which she cut a brief figure. How notably improved she will find the new relationship, is not known, no message having come from her.

The incident is only one sample of many incongruous and harmful episodes that take the place of marriage with brainless youngsters. It is rare that an American girl at sixteen is in any way fit for the duties of a wife. She lacks both physical and mental development. Probably she has ahead of her the experience of falling in love at least once, and perhaps a dozen times. It is wiser for her to run this gamut before picking a husband.

The parent who permits a sixteen-year-old girl to marry takes a heavy load of responsibility. The mother in this case must have known the girl to be flighty, irresponsible and generally incompetent. Such marital upsets are much to be regretted, not only in themselves, but because they are used as the basis of theses directed against marriage; as though a girl who wedded one week and eloped the next, could be regarded as having any relation to a properly considered, decent and suitable marriage.

Talk of another Thirty Years' war does not seem to have a logical basis. There might be a stupendous war in Europe. Who knows? There could not be a war prolonged for thirty years. Long before expiration of that time Europe would be an untenanted waste.

Much has been said about the destructive agencies that have been perfected by a highly polished civilization. There is heavy gas that dropped far aloft would eliminate every sign of life in a city. This phase of the war would amount to thirty seconds, and be no considerable part of thirty years.

WATCHING THE PARADE

BY JOHN PILGRIM

Now and then Mrs. Pilgrim surprises me. Most of the time I think Mrs. P.'s mental processes are a bit fuzzy. Then she pulls an idea from the wood and I am forced to take my hat off to her.

"I've been worried about that Thompson boy," she said to me some weeks ago.

Twenty years ago Thompson was up-and-coming, and Mrs. Thompson was a snappy little lady. But they have sort of run down hill since then. They live a good deal like white trash and she looks draggle-tailed and woe-be-gone and Thompson has a permanent grouch. It was natural enough that the Thompson boy looked sour and angry and was beginning to run with a tough set.

"I think I'll have a talk with him," said my lady wife.

"If you think it will do any good," I assented. I did not take any interest in the affair, to tell the truth. I knew the net result of her pestering the Thompson boy with good advice would be his disappearance from her field of vision. But she has made the Thompson boy over again, and he is making over his family. This isn't a Rollo story, either. It happened.

She made diplomatic overtures to him by offering him work. Most of that work I could have done myself if I had been bedevilled into it, perhaps, but that makes no difference. The poor kid was glad to get the money and worked hard. Then she wound up by staking him.

"I'll loan you the money you need to get the house fixed up and get your mother a new dress," said she. "But it must be paid back. In order to make that possible we will get you a job."

The job was found for him, he has repaid the loan, and Old Man Thompson has been so braced up that instead of telling his troubles he is bragging about his boy. In consequence he has held his latest job and Mrs. Thompson has roses in her cheeks.

But good advice, without the backing and the job, would have bored that boy to tears.

RAIL SYSTEMS TO BE HEARD TODAY ON MERGER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Three great system-consolidations of western transcontinental railroads and their feeders in the rich agricultural regions of the middle west, as tentatively drafted by the Interstate Commerce commission and proposed to the railroads involved, were to be submitted to argument before the commission here today.

Flung across the vast domain west of the Mississippi in three parallel bands from Chicago to San Francisco, the consolidations would carry the bulk of the nation's transcontinental traffic.

The consolidations under discussion here today are the Union Pacific with the Chicago and Northwestern, System No. 13; the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe with the Western Pacific (including the Denver and Rio Grande), System No. 16; and of the Southern Pacific with the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, System No. 17. Other minor roads are included in each consolidation as feeders to the main trunks.

The purpose of the consolidation proposed by the commission under the authority of the Transportation Act of 1920 is to strenthen the country's network of carriers by grouping weak roads with strong to enhance the public interest by creating great competitive systems in the nation's several regional subdivisions, such as the northwest, the southwest and the Mississippi valley. At the same time, the commission is endeavoring to create systems of approximately the same valuations, so that uniform rates may be charged over the whole country, all under the direction of the commission.

The commission has previously held hearings on consolidations in southeastern and northwestern United States. Objections to its plans were voiced by the carriers involved in both sets of hearings. Similar objections are expected to be advanced by the roads involved in today's hearings. The Union Pacific in particular is violent in its opposition to the commission's plan to bracket the Central Pacific (now part of the Southern Pacific interests) with the Southern Pacific, because such grouping would shut the Union Pacific out of the port of San Francisco. The Union Pacific now uses the Central Pacific under an agreement.

Shortly after today's hearings get under way, the commission is expected to issue an order calling the roads involved in Systems 18 and 19, in the Mississippi river valley, to hearings here. The principal roads involved in these systems are the St. Louis and San Francisco and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, in System 18, and the Chicago and Eastern Illinois, the Missouri Pacific and the Louisiana and Arkansas in System 19.

"FRITZ THE STRIPPER"

BERLIN, (By Mail).—"Fritz the Stripper," a kind of criminal rivaling the famous Jack the Peeper, Jack the Snipper and other old police characters, has made his debut in Berlin. A night prowler, still at large, knocks his victims in the head, strips them of all their clothes and leaves them to the mercies of the elements.

DINNER GOWN FOR DEBUTANTE

For the debutante nothing could be lovelier than a dinner gown of black velvet, wide of skirt, sleeveless, and with a two-inch band of ermine edging the bertha.

Trend of Fashion

By HELEN MERRILL EMERY

Even the most casual fashion observer can truthfully predict a pronounced success for the new little coats, which in various fabrics and many colors have been introduced for midseason wear as well as for the south. The possibilities of a jacket of this type are infinite.

Spring Fashions Stress the Importance of Short Coats

Frequently these little coats are of some vivid color, with gray or white embroidery. One of deep rose color is embroidered in gray and is worn over a pleated dress of grey crepe de chine.

CANADIANS TO HOLD REUNION

The Canadian tourists have set Saturday, February 3, as the date of their eighth annual winter picnic, and the place will be at the Palisades Park, Santa Monica. As the park adjoins the Looff Pier and beach sands, a wonderful program has been arranged. This is the regular official reunion of the Canadian Tourists' Association, and the affair will be sponsored by the council and chamber of commerce of Santa Monica, which have appointed a citizens' welcoming committee. There are to be free rides and shows, real Spanish barbecue, souvenir badges and free coffee, free parking, free dancing, athletic sports and games for valuable prizes, two bands, and an orchestra, fireworks, carnival ball in the evening, international speakers, registers from every province and city in the Dominion. Mark down the date. Tell your friends about it, and come and meet the tourists from your home town. For further particulars address President John Hooper, Santa Monica, or C. H. Parsons, phone 10261, Continental National Bank, Los Angeles.

AUTO LICENSES FOR 1923 HANDLED IN THE MAIL

"No application for renewal of automobile licenses for 1923 will be received at the Sacramento counter or any other counters of the branch offices of the Motor Vehicle Department, which are located at Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego and Fresno, prior to February 1. Mail applications are being received at the Sacramento office at the present time," said William H. Marsh, chief, Division of Motor Vehicles.

"In preparation for the renewal of your automobile license for 1923, it would be wise for the motorist to look at his certificate, see that his address is correct, verify his engine number, and see that the certificate correctly describes his car in every detail. If it does not do so, he should either by mail with the Sacramento office, or in person at one of the branches, have necessary corrections made. If the certificate has been lost, or is illegible, he should make application for duplicate, which will be furnished him upon payment of fee of 50c.

"If he has a second hand car upon which the transfer from the former owner to himself has not been recorded, he should have this done before presenting certificate for 1923 renewal. If certificate shows a legal owner other than the registered owner and he has satisfied the indebtedness on his car during the year, he should have his certificate properly endorsed on the reverse side by the former legal owner. It is not sufficient that he scratch the name from the space provided for legal owner. This action will only result in delay in his registration.

"Non-resident owners whose licenses have expired during the month of January will be given a continuation of three months in 1923 provided they desire to further tour the state. On the expiration of the three months' period, registration under the California license provisions will be required.

"Operators' licenses are good until revoked. If the operator has lost his card he should make application for a duplicate and same will be furnished to him upon payment of fee of 25c."

PLOVER, WIS., IS ON THE TAX ROLL

PLOVER, Wis., Jan. 17.—For the first time in several years taxpayers of this city must pay taxes on their property here.

For the last few years this little northern town, known as the taxpayers' Utopia, has had the distinction of being the only city in the country where residents did not have to pay a property tax.

Failure of a large paper mill, the town's chief industry, to make any profits this year and thereby pay sufficient money into the town treasury to pay all expenses incurred, has caused the town board to make a small levy on property.

Princeton Holds Six Championships

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Princeton had a rough year of sports during the 1922 season. The best the Tigers could do was to win six intercollegiate championships in—football, soccer, basketball, water polo, golf and polo.

The gridiron championship of the "Big Three" and the best claim to the eastern championship, of course, was the most valued accomplishment on the field.

Being as the Tigers are of the opinion that a little slump in their prowess on the field will mean their exit from the "Big Three," there isn't much need for worry in the immediate future.

Harvard didn't set anything on fire in 1922, but the Crimson figures the year well spent, since Yale was beaten in football, track and hockey.

Yale beat Harvard on the water and the diamond, but the football triumph is THE thing that all Yale and Harvard athletes pull for and the others are trivial.

* * * * * *

Jack McAuliffe and some of the other veterans who regard the present day boxers as cake eaters, will have to modify their remarks when they are to include Merci Montes, the little Texas lightweight, who went 51 rounds to knock out Jimmy Dundee in Mexico City.

Many of the old time boxers regard fifteen rounds as a mere workout and it was a rather general opinion that there were very few boxers in the ring today who could go more than twenty rounds.

When two second raters have endurance enough to go 51 rounds it does not speak badly of the modern crop of battlers.

* * * * * *

From a straight standpoint of endurance there is no doubt that as many of today's fighters could go over just as long a distance as some of the old timers.

Modern fighters take their business seriously and train strictly for their business. Old timers did not.

From another viewpoint, however, it is doubtful if two high class, well matched boxers would have to go more than twenty or thirty rounds.

Scientific hitting and skilled mechanics of fighting are products of the new game.

* * * * * *

Benny Leonard and Lew Tendler in a finish fight for the lightweight championship would be a wonderful card, and so would one to the limit between Harry Greb and Tom Gibbons or Greb and Gene Tunney. Either of the latter would produce a new light heavyweight champion and Benny probably would be a tired lightweight champion about the twentieth round.

The Once Over

SAM GOMPERS TO BE BASEBALL'S BIGGEST STAR NEXT YEAR, THINKS DUMM

Outlook Is for Best Season of Labor Troubles That Baseball Has Ever Seen—May Have to Call Out State Troops Early in Season, He Fears

"Do you think Samuel Gompers will make good in the big league, next season?" asked O. Howe Dumm.

"National or American league?" inquired A. Lott Dummer.

"Both," returned Dumm.

"I didn't know he was to play in either," remarked Dummer, obviously puzzled. "When was he signed up and for what position?"

"It will be his first season in baseball," replied Dumm, "and a lot is expected of him. It is my prediction he'll be a bigger man in the national game next season than Babe Ruth or Rogers Hornsby."

"I don't get you," confessed Dummer, sadly. "Gompers is a labor leader, not a baseball star."

"But the organized labor movement has now spread to baseball," explained Dumm, "as you would know if you read anything in newspapers besides the news of assassinations and peace conferences. The Baseball Players' Union has been formally organized as a branch of the American Federation of Labor. Frankie Frisch of the Giants has been nominated as the first president, and the pitchers who gave the greatest number of bases on balls last year are being boomed as walking delegates. It looks like the best season of disturbance, argument and labor troubles that baseball has ever had. From now on the players will call their own strikes."

* * *

"We'll be sitting in the bleachers next season," continued Dumm, "watching a game, with the bases full and nobody out, when word will come from the International President of the Baseball Players' Union, sitting in Chicago, that play will stop on all diamonds until the players get an increase of 35 cents an hour, two hours for lunch, and better plumbing work in the shower baths."

"Then what'll happen?" asked Dummer.

"The players will walk out, station pickets around the ball fields, and issue hourly statements from union headquarters announcing that the ball players have been slaves to the capitalistic interests long enough. I can see Babe Ruth on a soap box declaring he can't keep body and soul together on the meagre salary paid him by the greedy magnates."

"What will be the outcome?" asked Dummer, simply.

"Oh, after there has been no games for six or eight weeks and and the fans are beginning to suffer from the baseball shortage there will be a cry to submit the matter to arbitration. Naturally, congress will conduct an inquiry, just as in the annual coal and railroad strikes. Along about October 10, when it's too cold to resume playing, the arbitrators will hand down a verdict, which will be too late to do anybody any good."

"We'll be reading the usual sabotage charges. You'll see allegations that the striking Yankees tampered with Harry Stevens' frankfurter stand, that the Boston Red Sox blew up a couple of turnstile gates, and that a radical leader put poison in John McGraw's brandy. I fancy President Harding will issue an order inviting the ball players to go back to 'work,' and that there will be a demand that the state militia be called out to prevent further violence.

"A fan will be going to a baseball park to see a ball game and get nothing more than a nine-inning speech on the workingman's rights, or a fist fight between a union outfielder and a scab shortstop."

"It looks like a tough season," admitted Dummer.

"If this union thing is a success," returned Dumm, "the newspapers, instead of describing a player as one of the greatest players in the game, will be writing him up like this:

"Brother Frank Frisch, Local 671, it was learned today, will retire from baseball this season to accept a position as Secretary of the Paperhangers' and Decorators' Union. The fans will miss him, as he was without doubt one of the best walking delegates that ever held down third base. For six succcessive seasons he was the best labor agitator in either league, heading both with an average of 986. During the last two seasons he played his position without muffing a single lockout or missing a meeting of his Union local. During the last baseball strike he batted .986 in every argument.

"I don't think I'll go in for baseball next season," confessed Dummer, dejectedly.

"What'll you do, then?" asked Dumm.

"I'll take in the meetings of the Pennsylvania miners and the New York Garment Workers instead," he concluded.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK—

By E. R. WAITE,
Secretary of Shawnee, Oklahoma, Board of Commerce

THAT a city beautification tion campaign can do much to develop civic pride.

THAT you should keep your money at home by spending it at home.

THAT when trouble meets you half way, hop over it and keep going.

THAT the man who always loses, is the man who is always going to do something tomorrow.

THAT the man who puts the most into life, is the man who gets the most out of it.

THAT the merchants who continue to ignore the benefits of advertising, are just buying oil to grease their way to ruin.

THAT if business is worth buying, it is worth going after. What are you going to do about it, "Sit steady in the boat" while your neighboring cities get the business?

THAT you should work together, build together, boost together, to make your city a bigger, busier, better city, and when you are ready to leave this world for the next one, you will go, feeling that the place where you had lived was a bit better because of your having lived there.

THAT some people are citizens of a city and some just live there. Be a citizen.

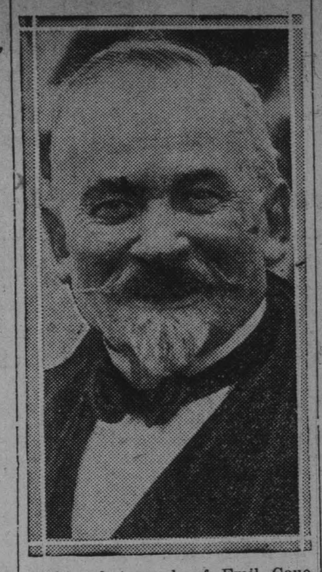
M. Coue, Psychologist, on Arrival From France



This photograph of Emil Coue, the former chemist's clerk, who has harnessed a parrot phrase to a big idea was made when he reached New York. "Please don't call me 'doctor,'" the little man said to ship news reporters. "I'm not a doctor, I'm just a teacher with a message." The originator of the "day by day, in every way," phrase came to this country to explain his theories of auto-suggestion.

SOO TRAFFIC MORE THAN PANAMA CUT

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Jan. 17.—Traffic through the Soo locks in the St. Mary's river here during 1922 was nearly six times the amount through the Panama canal during the first nine months of the year, according to figures issued today.

Another interesting feature in the report is that traffic through the local locks in October, 1922, alone amounted to more than was registered through the Panama canal from January, 1922, to October of the same year.

The total freight passing here in 1922 amounted to 66,067,258 net tons. This is a little less than the total amount of traffic through the Panama canal since it was opened in 1914, which, at the end of October, amounted to 72,703,935 net tons.

The locks here were open only 248 days during 1922. They are closed during the first week in December because of the terrific ice jams and are opened in early spring.

During the last year 17,383 ships were locked through here, while only 2,887 passed through the Panama canal.

LIP READING CLASS MAKES GOOD

A Number of Applicants Are Received at Glendale High

Quite a number of applicants have signed up for the lip reading classes which Glendale High has proposed to establish in the afternoon and evening if there is a sufficient demand.

The teacher will be here at 3:30 Thursday afternoon to meet those who prefer to join an afternoon class, and in the evening at 7 o'clock those who prefer to come at that time. If a sufficient number present themselves the classes will be started next week. There will be no charge as they will be included in regular school work, and will meet twice a week.

Concerning this work, Dr. Wendell Phillips, a noted aurist of New York, says:

"Of all the accomplishments that may be reasonably attempted by a deaf person, that of lip reading offers the greatest hope, and we otologists fail to meet our highest duty when we neglect to advise even those in the earliest stages to commence to hear with the eyes. The skill of many lip reading pupils almost approaches genius and the relief of strain among lip readers may be easily noted."

Lip-reading is declared to be of especial benefit to those in the early stages of deafness while the eyes and ears can work in the fullest co-operation and skill be attained before the hearing becomes more impaired. To those whose deafness is more or less advanced, lip reading is pronounced "a right hand to deficient ears," which goes a long way toward relieving the isolation and loneliness of deafness.

JAMES W. FOLEY

THE PROPHET

Old Ellery Gregg, when the weather was fine,
When the sunlight was bubbling and sparkling like wine,
When the skies were as bright as the dreamings of boys
And the day seemed to be running over with joys,
Would squint at the sky and drink in the fresh air
With a look of distrust and be moved to declare:
"Ye may think it's Spring, but th' Winter ain't quit!
I bet ye we pay for this fine weather yit!"

Old Ellery Gregg, when the Autumn was long
And the birds tarried late and the open brook's song
In November was heard and the big yellow moon
Made the fields near as light as the sun did at noon,
When the earth was aflame with its yellow and red,
Would look with distrust and a shake of his head:
"It ain't human natur'—this here kind of thing!
I bet ye we ketch it nex' Winter, by jing!"

Old Ellery Gregg, when the winds whistled keen,
When the snow lay knee deep all the fences between
When the boards creaked and snapped in the walk down the street,
When the wires sang with frost and the limbs hung with sleet,
Would tramp down the street with a challenge so grim
In his eyes as though this had been ordered for him:
"I tol' ye, by gum, that th' Winter ain't quit;
I tol' ye we'd pay for that fine weather yit!"

FOREST REVENUE

Revenue amounting to over $5,000,000 was paid into the United States Treasury from the national forests during the fiscal year of 1922, according to the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture. Nearly 4½ million dollars of these receipts were received from the use of timber and forage and the rest for the use of land, including waterpower sites. About 22 percent of the cattle and 53 per cent of the sheep in 11 western states are grazed upon national forest ranges during part or all of the year. Twenty-five per cent of all national forest receipts are turned over to the counties in which the forests are located and are used for schools and roads.

TIP TO WIVES

Here is a tip for the housewife who makes use of dried vegetables. Experiments which have been conducted by the Department of Agriculture show that dried vegetables of good quality are quite as good when cooked without soaking as when soaked beforehand. Vegetables are a valuable part of the diet and should be used as freely in the winter as in the summer. Plenty of vegetables makes the meal more appetizing. If the vegetables are mashed and put through a sieve they are more easily digested by small children.

A threat of tar and feathers is enough to make a man fly.

GLENDALE C. OF C. ASKS FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce went on record at its luncheon Tuesday noon as favoring the completion by the state of the three transcontinental routes that enter California. The board voted to adopt a resolution on this subject similar to the one passed recently by the chamber of commerce of Los Angeles, which, in effect, asks Governor Richardson to use his power toward having these highways improved.

The matter of the acceptance by the chamber of the proposition of Harry L. Leavitt to put on a pageant exhibition in Glendale was postponed. This matter was referred to the advertising committee for investigation and report at the next meeting.

Mr. Leavitt's proposition is as follows:

He will put on the pageant providing the chamber of commerce will furnish a brass band, a vacant piece of ground, police protection, light, license, ticket seller and treasurer.

Mr. Leavitt agrees to provide all advertisements, to pay all expenses except for those things listed, for fireworks, entertainment, etc., for a highclass pageant. The chamber and Mr. Leavitt are then to split even on the gross returns of the pageant.

A letter was received from C. D. Gulick, requesting permission to appear before the chamber and explain his local bus proposition. This was referred to the transportation committee.
